

Troy University News Update

Troy University is offering a free online leadership course open to all. This is a three-credit college level course. This course is free and open to anyone, and does not require enrollment in TROY to participate. The course may be applied to a TROY degree after completion.

Leadership 101 is being offered FREE in June and July to anyone interested. The course will explore personal development, leadership style and action, cultural diversity and current events.

Click here for more information.